Second Workshop Radiotherapy & Mathematics

Title: Some optimization problems in radiotherapy

Speaker: Miguel A. Herrero

Summary: Determining the optimal distribution of radiation over a given target volume, and selecting the best manner to deliver it, are two key issues in radiotherapy. In this lecture, I shall describe some mathematical problems of optimization type that have recently been proposed to address these issues, and some examples of application thereof will be presented.